Dad, I'm through!
My audition
tape rocked!

Congratulations! This is your apron and
keys to the factory!

Jen is bubbling, boiling,
mixing and mashing...
creating fairy floss clouds
in hundreds and thousands of colours.

invention at the shops!

LOLLYLAB

It would be easier if unkind
adults or bad strangers looked liked the villains in cartoons

But, no one can tell if strangers are nice or not nice
just by looking at them,
especially online.

minutes

Put your hand up if you have talked to a stranger online.

When should you tell an adult about contact with a stranger online?

If they ask if you have a webcam
in your room.

Hey cutie, do you have
a webcam?

Is Mum or Dad in the room?

If they want to send you a gift.

Hey, LMIRL!

Can I send you a gift?

Where do you live?

What are other things
that strangers and older people do online that might make you feel
uncomfortable?

Trying to become
friends to quickly.

Don't worry,
I'll be right
here when you need
someone to talk to.

Asking you to break
the rules.

If you don't
do it, I'll tell
your parents!

Saying adult things
or wanting to play a secret game.

Sharing pictures or
videos that make you
feel uncomfortable.

What do you
think of this video?

privacy

We have the right to be different.

We have the right to
feel safe
and secure.

Remember
your handful
of helpers are
there for you!

When talking about things that are uncomfortable, it can be normal to feel:

embarrassed
