Hi [REDACTED]

Really good to hear from you.

Yes — it's been just a little bonkers over the last few weeks, and with the Bill now passed we're perhaps only just getting started.

Many thanks for these — very helpful. I am sure we will be staying in close contact with industry on the blocking issue, and I very much hope that we see some clarity emerge about how and under what circumstances we might notify ISPs about domains hosting abhorrent violent material.

All the best,
