

The proposed scheme is a dangerous overreach which seek to gag and censor the internet. Certain right-wing groups will apply pressure to the government/ESafety Office to expand what is and isn't considered appropriate or safe.

For example in Hungary it's illegal to discuss issues regarding LGBTI+ issues with those under eighteen, as there's many lobbies which have historical fought against youth in Australia such as the backlash against the Safe Schools program, this will further that desired divide.

If allowed, these powers will be abused.
