 In summary:

- The Tweets target an Australian adult who identifies as a transgender woman.
- The Tweets identify the individual and share screenshots of an article about her that was previously published by the Daily Mail, discussing her act of breastfeeding as a transgender woman. §47F

§47F

- The Tweets deliberately target the individual by sharing screenshots of the deleted article alongside images of the individual, her partner and their child, and text that is designed to perpetuate a harmful narrative that the Complainant has abused her biological child by breastfeeding them, which would not otherwise be made if the Complainant did not identify as transgender. One tweet also shares a photo of an individual breastfeeding a newborn child, stating that it is the targeted individual "breastfeeding" her child. §37(1)(c)

§37(1)(c)

- The Tweets are designed to incite harassment and abuse towards the Complainant by dismissing and shaming her act of breastfeeding and one tweet describing the Complainant's act of breastfeeding using graphic language, §37(1)(c)
- The post has had an effect of inciting pile on comments from other users with transphobic hate speech and statements
